DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. Acknowledgement is made of receipt of Information Disclosure Statement(s) (PTO-1449) filed 06/01/01. An initialed copy is attached to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brown (4247493).

Regarding claim 8, Brown discloses a method of performing light shielding treatment for a transparent member having a flat surface at least partially and a projection rising in the flat surface, the method comprising the steps of: applying a black material to the flat surface as to the holder portion so as to surround said each lens surface; melting the applied coating; and solidifying the melted coating (col. 2, line 65-68, col. 3, lines 3-10, and col. 4, lines 16-19).

Regarding claim 9, Brown discloses a method of performing light shielding treatment for a transparent member having a flat surface at least partially and a projection rising in the flat surface, wherein the applied black material constitutes a closed loop which surrounds the projection (col. 3, lines 3-10).

Regarding claim 10, Brown discloses a method of performing light shielding treatment for a transparent member having a flat surface at least partially and a projection rising in the flat surface, wherein the applied black material constitutes a plurality of arc segments spaced from each other (col. 2, lines 65-68).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-7 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taniguchi et al. (5023422) in view of Brown (4247493).

Regarding claim 1, Taniguchi et al. discloses, in figures 1 and 11, a method of making a lens array (4) comprising the steps of: forming a resin-molded piece which includes a plurality of lenses (8) each having a convex lens surface (col. 4, lines 47-49), and a holder portion (9) for holding the plurality of lenses (8) but does not specifically disclose applying a coating to the holder portion so as to surround said each lens surface; melting the applied coating; and solidifying the melted coating. Brown discloses applying a coating to the holder portion so as to surround said each lens surface; melting the applied coating; and solidifying the melted coating (col. 2, line 65-68, col. 3, lines 3-10, and col. 4, lines 16-19).

Regarding claim 2, Brown discloses a method of making a lens array (4), wherein the plurality of lenses (8) are integral with the holder portion (9) (col. 4, lines 53-55).

Regarding claims 3 and 4, Brown discloses a method of making a lens array (4) but does not specifically disclose the coating comprising solid ink. It would have been obvious to use solid ink, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use (In re Leshin, 125 USPQ). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use solid ink for the purpose of its transparency.

Regarding claim 5, Taniguchi et al. discloses, in figures 1 and 11, a method of making a lens array (4), further comprising the step of forming a plurality of recesses (not labeled, the portion of the holder located below the lenses (8)) in the holder portion (9) for partitioning the plurality of lenses (8) (figure 1).

Regarding claim 6, Taniguchi et al. discloses, in figures 1 and 11, a method of making a lens array (4), further comprising the step of forming a light-shielding layer (11) on wall surfaces defining the plurality of recesses (not labeled, the portion of the holder located below the lenses (8)) (col. 4, lines 61-63).

Regarding claim 7, Taniguchi et al. discloses, in figures 1 and 11, a method of making a lens array (4), further comprising the step of dividing the resin-molded piece into a plurality of individual lens array (figure 11).

Regarding claim 11, Taniguchi et al. discloses, in figures 1 and 11, a lens array comprising: a plurality of lenses (8) each of which has a convex lens surface (col. 4, lines 47-49); a holder portion (9) for holding the lenses (8); a light-shielding member (11) provided at the holder portion (9) (col. 4, lines 61-62); wherein the light-shielding member (11) overlaps a circumferentially peripheral portion of each lens surface (col. 4, lines 61-63 and col. 6, lines 11-14).

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 12 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. The prior art taken either singularly or in combination fails to anticipate or fairly suggest the limitations of the independent claim(s), in such a manner that a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102 or 103 would be proper. The prior art fails to teach a combination of all the claimed features as presented in claim(s) 12, wherein the claimed invention comprises a lens array including a first and a second light-shielding layer which are made of different materials and the second light-shielding layer being formed at the holder portion so as to surround the first light-shielding layer, as claimed.
